

Andalucia Travel Guide: English theater in Marbella

I am Xaviera Hollander and it is a pleasure to announce that in the next few months I intend to bring to Marbella three different English language theatre productions.

As I am leaving for Holland to chill out until December 6 when I shall be back in Marbella, I decided to combine all three shows into one email. I know it is a bit premature, but some people do have pretty booked agendas and for the press there is the inevitable deadline of course.

After the roaring success of my first major production at the Black Box Theater a few months ago: NIJINSKY'S LAST DANCE I obviously aim to bring you nothing but the best in entertainment.

My actors and I are eager to entertain you and your friends and we are all open for suggestions for other locations to bring our shows to, while they are here of course, which is usually for the week of their shows at the Black Box. The Cabaret for instance as well as David Benson's Star struck would lend themselves perfectly for private dinner shows . Just a suggestion. If anyone would like to discuss a possible occasion or a new location for us to bring theatre up and down this coast, by all means, do email me about it. Also please tell your friends and acquaintances and spread this email around. If by the end of November and December you will see my happy X team members on the street handing out leaflets for our shows please accept them and pass them around.

Remember I am totally NEW at all this,- not world wide - but in Spain. I have been producing plays in Holland, Mexico, Ireland and even just now in Dubrovnik for the last 12 years, but this is still kind of "virgin territory".
